Bison best Tomcats

The Thiel Tomcats suffered a Presidents' Athletic Conference (PAC) loss on the road to the Bethany Bison last Saturday, 37-7.

The Bison opened up a 21-0 lead midway through the second quarter on a pair of touchdown runs by Carlin Bason from three and eight yards out, as well as a 52-yard interception return by Quron Eggleston.

The Tomcats cut the lead down to 14 points with 4:36 remaining before halftime on an eight-yard touchdown pass from Marlon Brown to Caleb Shuler, capping off a seven-play drive that consumed 3:53 and covered 61 yards. Chris Rosales converted the extra point.

Thiel's defense pushed Bethany's offense back 26 yards on the ensuing drive. The Bison went on to punt from their own three-yard line, setting Thiel's offense up at the Bethany 36-yard line with 2:44 left before halftime.

The Tomcats drove down to the Bethany 13-yard line, but a sack on third-and-10 coupled with a false start penalty forced a 41-yard field goal attempt that sailed wide to the left.

Bethany increased its lead to 28-7 late in the third quarter when Dom Salinetro threw a 19-yard touchdown pass to Hunter Klein. In the fourth quarter, Phil Taylor scored on a 13-yard interception return and the Bison added two points on a safety.

ABOUT THE PRESIDENTS' ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Presidents' Athletic Conference (PAC), built on the basic belief that an athletic program is an integral part of college life, but not an entity in itself, looks back on over sixty years of growth and ahead to years of continued academic and athletic excellence.

The league's name clearly reflects its founding principle that operational control of all aspects of intercollegiate athletics is ultimately the responsibility of the presidents of each member institution, and thus active presidential leadership and oversight is paramount in conference administration.

Formally organized in 1955 by Western Reserve University, John Carroll University, Case Institute of Technology and Wayne State University, the PAC was the result of a realization that college athletics, despite numerous virtues for the individual and the institution, were gradually becoming a financial and academic burden. If athletics were to be continued, action had to be taken to place the program on its proper level. This included the premise that benefits of participation should be provided to as many students as possible. The PAC and its membership continue its original, defining mission of promoting intercollegiate athletics and the pursuit of academic excellence.

Institutions involved understand that the key components to its progress lie in the foundation of faith in each member by each other member. It is the conviction of its membership that the PAC is the solution to the dilemma of intercollegiate athletic competition, and they have staked their athletic future on this premise.

Comprised of 10 select private institutions - Bethany College, Chatham University, Franciscan University of Steubenville, Geneva College, Grove City College, Saint Vincent College, Thiel College, Washington & Jefferson College, Waynesburg University and Westminster College - the PAC remains a unique organization in this day of high pressure intercollegiate athletics, with academics at the center of each member's philosophy.

In 2012, the PAC Presidents' Council voted to add Carnegie Mellon University and Case Western Reserve University as affiliate members in the sport of football.

The PAC crowns league champions and awards all-conference honors in its 23 championship sports. Head coaches determine All-PAC squads for all team sports, while in individual sports, such as cross country, golf and indoor and outdoor track and field, all-PAC accolades are based upon performances at the conference championships.

The PAC, which recently celebrated its 60th anniversary, annually awards its men's and women's All-Sports Trophies to the schools which perform best across the board in PAC competition.

Staying true to its original mission of promoting intercollegiate athletics and the pursuit of academic excellence, the PAC has seen over 200 of its participating student-athletes recognized as Academic All-Americans, while the league has also produced numerous NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners. Last year, the conference named 1,097 of its student-athletes to the PAC Academic Honor Roll, which recognizes all participating student-athletes who earn a term grade-point average of 3.60 or above.
